Queensland Road Safety Week Awards 18-22 August 2025

This year for Road Safety Week the Ipswich Police District Road Safety Committee would like to announce the Road Safety Awards held on August 27 to raise awareness and highlight the importance of Road Safety across the Ipswich Police District, whilst recognising the efforts, programs, initiatives, services and achievements that individuals, organisations or groups have implemented to reduce Road Trauma.

The awards will be held at the Dandiiri room level 1, Ipswich City Council Building at 1 Nicholas Street Ipswich at 10am.

Our guest speaker for the awards will be Todd Hazelwood one of the most popular identities in Australian Motorsport with multiple years of experience in the Supercars Championship and automotive industry. Throughout Queensland Road Safety Week, police will be out and about promoting road safety through various events held within the Ipswich District. We're one team Queensland. Let's drive like it!

Everyone has an important role in keeping our roads safe. Our wonderful Volunteers in Policing will also be engaging with the community promoting road safety and assisting local police.

Ipswich Police continue to adopt a zero-tolerance policy of unsafe driving to deter these behaviours and to raise safe driving education through engagement with Queensland Road users.

The Queensland Police Service is committed to reducing number of lives lost on our roads. Data shows that serious crashes can be significantly reduced when drivers recognise and avoid the 'Fatal Five' behaviours: speeding, drink and drug driving, not wearing seatbelts, fatigue and distraction. Discuss road safety with your family and friends and encourage them to always take care on the roads

Road safety is everyone's responsibility.

Bold Voices, Bright Futures. Celebrate Wear It Purple Day Friday 29th August 2025

This theme emphasizes the importance of amplifying the voices and experiences of LGBTQIA+ youth and advocating for positive change to ensure bright futures for them. Wear it Purple Day empowers and encourages individuals, schools, workplaces, and communities to wear purple to show their support and create inclusive environments.

LGBTQIA+ youth to dream big, speak up and share their stories. Strives to foster supportive, safe, and inclusive environments for rainbow young people.

The Queensland Police Service is committed to ensuring all policing services are accessible to all members of the community.

Ipswich Police are upholding that commitment when there is a need to deliver services to the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Intersex (LGBTQIA+) Communities. This commitment includes the delivery of non-discriminatory, professional and accessible policing services. Ipswich Police have a number of trained LGBTQIA+ Police Liaison Officers who are sensitive to the issues the Community faces.

LGBTQIA+ community members are encouraged to report all matters to their local Police station or Policelink. However, if you feel more comfortable speaking with a LGBTQIA+ Liaison Officer, please make that request on your first contact with Police and arrangements will be made.

A list of LGBTQIA+ liaison officers can be found on the QPS webpage at www.police.qld.gov.au. Further information can be found at www.wearitpurple.org

The annual Ipswich and West Moreton Region Child Protection Week Awards are now open for nomination!

This year's theme, "Every Conversation Matters: Shifting conversation to Action" is about taking the next step beyond dialogue, turning meaningful conversations into real change at individual, community, and national levels.

The awards are an opportunity to acknowledge individuals, community members, volunteers, programs, organisations, co-workers etc. for the outstanding work they're doing in our communities around keeping children and young people safe. The awards aim to raise awareness and highlight the importance of child protection in our community, while recognising the efforts, programs, services and achievements of individuals and organisations.
